MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM : Angus MacLean Thuermer
Assistant to the Director

SUBJECT : Washington Press Club Meeting

You are booked for a buffet-luncheon talk before the Washington Press Club on May 10 at 12:15 at the Sheraton-Carlton.

You will be introduced at about 1:00. Milton Jacques promises that you will be out by 2:00.

The meetings are on the record. There will be a lot of tape recorders there. If television cameramen ask to come, they are permitted to be there. There are questions and answers from the floor.

A considerable number of the grande dames of the Washington press corps are members. Milt asked me if I would like to come along and I suggested that you might want to have [redacted] along as well. He immediately invited her.

Your fellow Texan, Peggy Simpson, is the President and my old Chicago copyboy, Bill Eaton, is the Vice-President. STATINTL

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM : Angus MacLean Thuermer
Assistant to the DirectorSUBJECT : Washington Press Club Speaking Invitation
This would be a good date

The Washington Press Club (formerly the Women's Press organization) wants you to speak to them during the week of April 19, April 26, or May 10. They usually have luncheon meetings but they can make other arrangements. It normally takes place in their quarters in the Sheraton-Carlton.

The original request came from your fellow Texan, Peggy Simpson, Associated Press. She said you had chatted briefly about it. Milt Jacques, of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, is the program chairman. He suggested that the group will probably be the members plus one guest.

This would be useful. Do not forget, however, some other groups, especially the smaller, tighter, Overseas Writers Club have been in the queue a little bit longer than this broader-based organization. STATINTL
